Sleeplessness

Is this to be a life? Many a woman relates this as she lies awake hour by hour, peering at the darkness with a phantom, starting at the creaking of the bed or the rustle of the bedclothes.

Such symptoms in general point to disease of the delicate womanly organs, and a constant drain of the vital and nervous forces. This condition cannot be overcome by sleeping powders. The diseased condition must be cured before the consequences of disease are removed.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the womanly diseases which cause nervousness and sleeplessness. It is the best of tonics and invigorants, nourishing the nerves, encouraging the appetite and inducing refreshing sleep.

$300 Reward for Women Who Cannot be Cured.

Proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now offer a reward of $300 in legal money of the United States for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Protrusion of the Uterus, or any other disease of the female system, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a reasonable trial of their means of cure.

"My wife was sick for over eight years," writes Albert H. Pule, Jr., of Alamogordo, N. M. "She had uterine disease and was treated by two physicians and got no relief. At last I read about Dr. Pierce's medicine and was decided to try it. I sent her a bottle and she took it for three weeks. She had not slept any for three nights. Being sure that it would cure her I sent for five more bottles and when she had taken the sixth bottle she was cured and well."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, no organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, putting it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.

Mr. D. K. Kable, of Nevada, O., says: "I had stomach trouble and was a bad state of health. I took Kodol Dyspeptic Cure for about four months and it cured me."

Kodol Dyspeptic Cure for What You Eat and relieves the stomach of all nervous strain and the heart of all pressure.

Bottles only $1.00. Six bottles $5.00. The trial size, which will test the cure, is free.

The President of the Woman's Protective Club of Northern Ohio.

"I dreaded the change of life which was fast approaching. I looked upon it with a shudder and decided to try a bottle of Wine of Cardui. I experienced some relief the first night, so I kept on taking it for three months and now I am perfectly well with no pain and I shall take it and on now until I have passed the climacteric."

Female weakness, disordered menses, falling of the womb and all the troubles that come with it, they follow a woman to the change of life. Do not wait but take Wine of Cardui now and avoid the troubles. Wine of Cardui never fails to benefit a suffering woman of any age. Wine of Cardui relieved Mrs. Webb when she was in danger. When you come to the change of life Mrs. Webb's letter will mean more to you than it does now. But you may now avoid the suffering she endured. Druggists sell 50c bottles of Wine of Cardui.

THE SLEEPING SENTINEL.

A True Story of Kentucky Mountain Life.

The humble home of Mr. James Persley, is situated on the headwaters of a certain little mountain stream in Eastern Kentucky. In this home his wife, Mrs. Mary Persley, had been for many weeks a sufferer, wasting away with a malignant type of typhoid fever. During all these days her neighbors and friends ministered untiringly, to her wants, but, according to her request and preference, it was her husband's nightly task to keep his vigil alone. Thus days passed, and the summer of 1903 was passing into autumn. "Fodderin' time" had come and all the availing working force of each mountain home was employed in saving "roughness" for the approaching winter. Mr. Persley was daily employed in "pullin' fodder" on the mountain side, while every night found him by the bedside of his suffering wife. At length, worn out by the constant labor and watchin', he fell soundly asleep one night as he sat in his chair by her side.

No sound was heard in the room save an occasional groan from the children lying on the floor, and the regular breathing of the sentinel asleep at his post. Gently she withdrew her hand from his, as his nerves relaxed in sound slumber, and slipped noiselessly from the room. Summoning all her remaining strength for one supreme and final effort, she procured a rope from the gear room, and having returned to the apple tree by the house she climbed into it, tied one end about the limb of the tree, the other securely about her neck and leaped to death.

Within the house the children slept on undisturbed, while the father sat by an empty couch. Without the midnight stillness was disturbed only by the hoots of owls and the howls of dogs, while the moon shone on in all its splendor as it looked on no scene of woe. At last her long weeks of physical and mental sufferings were ended, and her home was left desolate. The father and children stood still till early morning. On waking Mr. Persley at once missed his charge, and hurried in search of her. Not finding her in the house he passed out into the yard, and on turning the corner of the house, discovered the body as it lay back and forth in the gentle breeze of early morning.

DIED IN HIS TRACKS

Calhoun Man Meets Death While at Saloon Bar Taking a Drink.

Calhoun, Ky., Oct. 26.—With a swallow of whiskey still running down his throat, Miles Vertes sank to the floor in Irvin & Hancock's saloon this afternoon, and was dead when those in the saloon reached his side.

Mr. Vertes, according to witnesses, entered the saloon at the rear door. He walked up to the bar and asked for half a pint of whiskey in a bottle, remarking at the time that he did not feel very well. When handed the bottle by the bartender he at once removed the cork and put it to his lips. He took a swallow and then reached for the railing of the bar. The bottle fell from his trembling hand and crashed on the floor.

Without uttering a word Vertes dropped to the floor dead. Those in the room rushed to his side and raised him, but life was already extinct.

The body was removed to the Turner hotel and prepared for burial. It was afterwards removed to his late home in the lower part of town.

Mr. Vertes is survived by a widow and three children. He served during the civil war with the Union army, and was drawing a pension at the time of his death. He was a trustee of the town, which position he had held for a number of years. His friends say that he was subject to attacks of heart failure.

MEMORIES OF ABE LINCOLN.

Rev. Cunningham Relates Some Interesting Incidents in the Life of the War President.

I came very nearly being a sort of kinsman of Abraham Lincoln. My brother, William B., of Northwest Missouri, now in his eighty-ninth year, married Sarah Owen, daughter of Nat Owen, of Green county, Ky. She had an older sister, Mary, who had visited another sister near Springfield, Illinois. There she met Mr. Lincoln, a young lawyer, who fell in love with her and proposed marriage. She declined his offer. The facts as to the courtship and rejection are recited in Herndon's life of Lincoln, accompanied by the lady's picture as she appeared in later years, as Mrs. Vineyard, of Platte county, Mo.

A SENATORIAL ASPIRANT.

In October, 1854, I had occasion to visit Chicago and Springfield, Ill. The car in which I rode was one of several filled with passengers going at reduced rates to Springfield to hear a debate between Stephen A. Douglas and Abraham Lincoln in their contention for the United States Senatorship. I did not feel enough interested in the contest to go to the place of speaking or to get a view of the disputants elsewhere in the city.

LINDER AND DOUGLASS.

In 1859 I was several hours in Charleston, Ill. In that town was a noted lawyer and speaker named Usher F. Linder, a native of Hardin county, Kentucky. He began his career as a lawyer at Leitchfield and while there became intimately acquainted with many lawyers by frequenting courts of neighboring counties especially at Elizabethtown and Bardonia. He married Miss Stevenson, below Elizabethtown. His home was in a two-story log house. Just south of the court house square and next below it was the shop and sleeping rooms of Mordca Lincoln, the fiddling aboriginal, a cousin of Abraham and across the street lived Sheriff Geo. Washington Neighbors, whose wife was a sister of Mordca. Linder and Mordca were personal friends. I think all three of the houses are standing yet, converted, by modern adornments into cheerful homes, whose walls are four-score years or more old. Linder left Leitchfield for Coles county, Illinois, when I was a small boy. In his Illinois home he did not see me a man of thirty-five years, the "Little John," of Leitchfield, yet he remembered the little boy when I told him who I was, and grew eloquent and facetious in his rapid talk about "Ben Hardin," Charles A. Wickliffe, and others, and told court incidents of the two just named. He said Hardin called Wickliffe cousin Charles and the latter called the other "Ben." Then turning to Illinois, he asked, "Did you ever hear Stephen A. Douglass?" I had not. He continued, "When Douglass and Abe Lincoln were canvassing the State for the Senatorship, Douglass became alarmed and called on me to help him on the stump at some of his appointments. I complied. Sometimes I spoke first, and if you had heard us both and hadn't known which was which, you would have supposed I was Stephen A. Douglass and he was Usher Linder."

SPRITUALISM.

Linder turned from politics to spiritualism. He declared himself a spiritualist and gave me a little experience on that line.

In 1862 I was in Chicago. I heard that Linder was living there and that I might find him in a certain court-room. I went, saw him inside the bar, sent for him. He came to me and we were a half hour together. After talking about the lawyer I have named, he introduced spiritualism again. He said with a merry twinkle in his eyes, "Yes, sir, I am the strongest kind of a spiritualist, but the spirits are the biggest set of liars in existence and the last one of them is an abolitionist."

That was a few days after the surrender of Vicksburg to the besieging armies of the United States of which Abraham Lincoln was Commander in Chief. JOHN W. CUNNINGHAM, St. Louis, Mo.

CAUGHT AFTER LONG CHASE

John Morrison, London Embezzler, is Captured.

Followed Fourteen Months Over Two Continents By Detectives—Arrest is made in Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—After a chase lasting fourteen months, and in which two continents were traversed with a detective in pursuit John Morrison, assistant cashier of the Northampton Bank of London, charged with embezzling more than $60,000 has been captured in Chicago. Morrison with Edward Weston, of the Scotland Yard detective force, who effected the capture now is on his way to England to answer the charge of defalcation.

Morrison, after his flight, assumed many aliases. When arrested he was conducting a jewelry store in Forty-third street under the name of Henry Jorgan. He also had used the names of William J. H. Henry Miller and Francis. During August 1902, in the temporary absence of the cashier of the London bank, Morrison, it is alleged, fled to the continent. The theft aroused the London bankers and Weston was put on the case.

The detective started for the continent thirty hours after Morrison, but the fleeing man had sailed at once for Canada. There he bought a ticket for New York. In New York, Morrison lived at a small boarding house for at least two months. Becoming nervous he left the city and went to Boston where he invested in a jewelry store.

The fugitive did not stay long in Boston. He went to Marlton, O., where he invested in a business venture.

Weston came to Marlton, where he learned the embezzler had left only a few hours before for Chicago. Weston arrived in Chicago only a few days later than Morrison. When arrested the fugitive consented to return to England without extradition proceedings.

What to do Until the Doctor Arrives.

Gov. Graham Vest, for thirty-six years United States Senator from Missouri is dying at the home of his daughter in St. Louis. The "Little Giant," as he was known in the Senate, is making the same gallant fight for life that always marked his battles in public life. But the fight is a losing one, and the brilliant mind that swayed the Senate is slowly but surely fading away.

All day long the old statesman sits in his great leather chair, his pallid face on his breast, his ashen hands folded in his lap. Once in a while his shrunken fingers stroke his chin or he rones with a stent to mutter, "Ed—what is it?"

Senator Vest was a dying man when he left Washington last December when his term expired. But even flashes of old-time mentality roused his colleagues and filled the Senate with his brilliancy. But these flashes are becoming less frequent. Mental decadence is following physical decay.

THE FARMER'S FRIEND

The Country Press can Always be Relied On.

In an address before a farmer's meeting in Christian county, one of the speakers said: "As a rule, the farmer has no firmer friend than the country press. The home paper is distinctly the farmer's own paper, supported directly and indirectly by farmers, who compose the backbone of the subscription list, and largely for what the enterprising merchant advertises." Now, brothers, let us not forget our friends. Let us see that our subscription is paid up to the first of January each year in advance if we can afford it. The man or the paper that fights my battles shall have my support. Another thing, the merchants who advertise are the ones who make it possible for them to get a good local paper, and men or firms who are too penurious to advertise and help the local press have no right to the farmers' patronage. I propose to go to a live advertiser and a man who will do his share in supporting a local paper, rather than to buy of a man who proposes to secure all and give nothing in return. If the farmers as a class would support their friends, the others would soon go out of business."

A STRONG, VIGOROUS MAN

Is Liable to Break Down—Pe-ru-na is Sure to Restore.

Hon. Frank Dunn, Alderman Twenty-Fourth District, writes from 232 East Fifty-Eighth Street, New York City:

Gentlemen: "There is no remedy for a broken-down system that I know of which will so effectually restore health as Peru-na. Whenever I am overworked or suffer from the consequences of a cold a few doses of Peru-na build me up again more quickly than anything I ever tried. I find it especially valuable for catarrh. Three bottles cured me three years ago of catarrh of the stomach and I have never had the least symptoms of it since."

Very truly,
FRANK DUNN, Alderman 24th Dist., N. Y. City.

A TONIC is a medicine that gives tone to some part of the system. There are different kinds of tonics, but the tonic most needed in this country, where catarrh is so prevalent, is a tonic that operates on the mucous membrane.

Peru-na is a tonic to the mucous membranes of the whole body. It gives tone to the capillary circulation, which constitutes these delicate membranes.

Peru-na is a specific in its operation upon the mucous membrane. It is a tonic that strikes at the root of all catarrhal affections. It gives tone to the minute blood vessels and the terminal nerve fibres. Catarrh cannot exist long where Peru-na is used intelligently. Peru-na seeks out catarrh in all its hidden parts of the body.

Paul Landrum writing from Atlanta, Ga., says:

"In January last I began the use of your Peru-na and Manalin for what was termed organic heart trouble. At that time I could scarcely walk to my place of business without stopping to rest and on arrival felt completely exhausted. Had severe pains in my heart and general distress. After using the first bottle of Peru-na I began to improve and today I feel that I am a sound man and I work fourteen hours a day without any bad feeling."—Paul Landrum.

A. M. Ikard, an employee of the G. B. & Q. R. R., West Burlington, Ia., writes: "I had catarrh of the stomach and small intestines for a number of years. I went to a number of doctors and got no relief. Finally one of my doctors sent me to Chicago and I met the same fate. They said they could do nothing for me, that I had cancer of the stomach and there was no cure. I almost thought the same, for my breath was something awful. I could hardly stand it, it was so offensive. I could not eat anything without great misery, and I gradually grew worse."

"Finally I got one of your books, and concluded I would try Peru-na, and thank God, it saved me and a cure for that dreadful disease. I took five bottles of Peru-na and two of Manalin, and I now feel like a new man. There is nothing better than Peru-na, and I keep a bottle in my house all the time."—A. M. Ikard.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peru-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

THE

Thrice-a-Week Edition.

Read Wherever the English Language is Spoken.

The Thrice-a-Week World long ago established itself in public favor, and it is now recognized as the strongest publication of its kind in the United States. Advertisers and publishers seeking clubbing combinations—and they know best—universally testify to this. It is widely circulated in every State and Territory of the Union, and even in remote South Africa and on the gold fields in the deserts of Australia. These are the things that tell.

Next year we have the Presidential campaign, in which all Americans are deeply interested. Already the issues are being discussed, and the two great parties are preparing for the first moves. You will not want to miss any details, and if you subscribe now your year's subscription will cover the campaign from beginning to end.

The Thrice-a-Week World is absolutely fair in its political news. Partisan bias is never allowed to effect its news columns, and Democrat and Republican alike can obtain in its pages truthful accounts of all the great political contests.

In addition to all the news, the Thrice-a-Week World furnishes the best serial fiction, elaborate market reports and other features of interest. The Thrice-a-Week World's regular subscription price is only $1 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and REPUBLICAN together one year for $1.65.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 6.

There stood Ohio county.

Ed Barrass, the next Circuit Clerk.

Dr. A. D. Park, the next Representative from Ohio county.

Hon. A. S. Bennett, the next State Senator from this Senatorial District.

Republicans and other patriotic citizens of Ohio county did honor to themselves Tuesday.

Every thing went Republican except Kentucky. Why can't her citizens get right and vote right?

The sun still "shines bright" in the Ohio county homes. We invite the less fortunate Republicans of adjoining counties to come over and rally with us.

Our former State Senator, Capt. N. T. Howard, of Morgantown, was elected Commonwealth's Attorney in the Eighth Judicial District. Congratulations and best wishes "Capt."

The Herald's "baby cry" of "boodle" is laughable to Republican workers who had to contend with the seemingly unlimited supply of the Democratic article in this county last Tuesday.

Barrass and Ford each ran far ahead of his ticket at their respective voting precincts. Both are clean, manly young men, and both were indorsed by their neighbors without regard to party.

It is an open secret that the Democrats had "boodle" money "to throw at the birds" on election day. Yet the success of the Republican ticket in this county is charged to the use of money.

Here's to you, boys: Senator Bennett, Representative Park and Circuit Court Clerk Barrass. May you all be faithful and efficient officers, servants of all the people and an honor to the party which nominated and elected you.

The result of the election in other States is encouraging to the Republicans. Colorado, Iowa, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts increased their Republican majorities, and Ohio buried the Democratic ticket there under a majority of 100,000. As a whole, the country has endorsed Republican rule, and only where local issues were paramount did Democratic gains appear.

The greatest and most high-handed frauds ever perpetrated in an election were those enacted by the Democrats in various parts of the State Tuesday. Ballots and ballot boxes belonging to strong Republican precincts were stolen or destroyed, voting places were changed by Democratic election officers in strong Republican precincts; Republican election officers were expelled from the voting places without cause or reason, nothing that Beckham and his henchman, in their greed for office, could do to win, was left undone.

THE ELECTION AND ITS RESULTS.

At the hour of going to press the exact vote cast in Kentucky is not known. The true number of votes cast will, perhaps, remain unknown. All over the State comes reports of intimidation, violence and even murder as the machine's plan to carry the State for the nominees, and the large Democratic majority is a result, in part, of the fact that ballot boxes were stuffed, polls closed and Republicans intimidated by the machine heelers.

But this alone can not account for the vote cast Tuesday. The election in the country districts was a fair reflection of public opinion, and it, too, was a victory for the Democrats. It would seem that the people of Kentucky who did not indorse Mr. Beckham's administration were indifferent. Only in Ohio county can local Republicans take pride in the result. The local organization fought single-handed and alone against a large campaign fund gathered in this county and supplemented by the Democratic State Campaign Committee. A member of their State Committee was a candidate and saw to it that the Ohio County Campaign Committee was taken care of by the State, but the result shows what Ohio county Republicans can do when aroused.

President Roosevelt cast ballot No. 82 at Oyster Bay Tuesday at 9:55 a. m. It took him only a minute or two to prepare his ballot. He left for Washington in the afternoon. He was accompanied by Secretary of Commerce Cordero and his private secretary, Mr. Loch.

DARING ROBBERY.

Cumberland Telephone Company's Cashier Held up and Robbed of $3,000.00.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 2.—Two heavily armed men held up the assistant cashier in the office of the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Company about 5 o'clock this morning and secured $3,000 in money.

The assistant cashier, Melville Wheeler, reached the office about 1:30 for the purpose of working on his monthly pay roll, and was in the act of getting the currency out of the office safe when a man behind commanded him to be quiet and stuck a pistol in his face. Wheeler sought to release himself, when he was struck over the head with a billy and momentarily stunned. A second man put in his appearance at this time and proceeded to rifle the safe while his companion kept guard over the assistant cashier.

After the robber with the money had lowered himself from the window opening on the alley, the first one, who had been holding the gun on Mr. Wheeler, backed toward the window. He kept his gun trained on the assistant all the while, commanding him with oaths not to move. As the man turned to climb from the window Mr. Wheeler seized a revolver from his desk drawer and fired two shots in rapid succession at the fleeing figure, but without effect.

The night operator, the engineer, the night watchman, several telephone operators and the long-distance man in the first office were in the building at the time, but none of them knew of the robbery until Wheeler raised the alarm. Neither of the men were masked, and Wheeler believes he would be able to identify one of them. Officers went to work at once on the case, but no account of the robbers had been received up to noon.

VICTORY FOR HUNTER

Circuit Court Had No Jurisdiction --Judge Settle so Decides.

The injunction granted D. C. Edwards by Judge H. C. Faulkner of the Laurel Circuit Court was dissolved last night by Judge Warren Settle, of the Circuit Court of Appeals, sitting in the Chancery Court room in the Louisville court house, Judge Henry S. Baker heard the case and concurred in Judge Settle's opinion. Judge Settle, after hearing argument of an hour by each side, held that the courts have no jurisdiction in such a case and that only the governing authority of the party could decide such questions. In effect, the decision sustains every contention of Dr. Hunter's attorneys and his names will go under the log cabin.

In his opinion Judge Settle tells the grounds that although C. B. Hill, the Secretary of State, may have exceeded his authority in declaring Dr. Hunter the nominee, the governing authority of the Republican party still have decided the case on its merits and the decision would have stood, provided it was made in time to have the ballots printed.

At a meeting of the Eleventh District Committee, held Monday night at London, it was decided that D. C. Edwards was the nominee and an appeal was taken to the State Central Committee, which will meet here Wednesday night to decide the case. Even should the State Central Committee decide against Dr. Hunter, which is improbable, it would be a physical impossibility to print the ballots in time for Tuesday's election, and Dr. Hunter's lawyers say Mr. Hill would be justified under Judge Settle's opinion in declaring to instruct the County Clerks to place Edwards' name under the log cabin. Some of the counties are thirty to forty miles off the railroads and have no printing offices.

CALLS FOR THANKSGIVING

President Roosevelt Issues Season's Proclamation.

By the president of the United States of America, a proclamation:

The season is at hand when according to the custom of our people it falls upon the President to appoint a day of praise and Thanksgiving to God.

During the last year the Lord has dealt bountifully with us, giving us peace at home and abroad and the chance for our citizens to work for their welfare unhindered by war, famine or plague. It behooves us not only to rejoice gratefully because of what has been given us but to accept it with a solemn sense of responsibility, realizing that under heaven it rests with us ourselves to show that we are worthy to use aright what has thus been entrusted to our care.

In no other place and at no other time has the experiment of government of the people by the people and for the people been tried on so vast a scale as here in our own country in the opening years of the Twentieth century.

Failure would not only be a dreadful thing for us, but a dreadful thing for all mankind, because it would mean loss of hope for all who believe in the powers and the righteousness of liberty.

Therefore, in thanking God for the mercies extended to us in the past, we beseech Him that he may not withhold them in the future and that our hearts may be roused to war steadfastly for good and against all the forces of evil, public and private.

We pray for strength and light so that in the coming years we may with cleanliness, fearlessness and wisdom do our allotted work on the earth in such manner as to show that we are not altogether unworthy of the blessings we have received.

Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, do hereby designate as a day of general thanksgiving, Thursday, the 30th of the coming November, and do recommend that throughout the land people cease for their wonted occupations and in their several homes and places of worship render thanks unto Almighty God for his manifold mercies.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this 31st day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and three, of the independence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-eighth.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

OHIO COUNTY LOYAL

Time Honored Principles of Republicanism Exemplified.

Tuesday was a great day for Republicans of Ohio county. By a majority of 326, they dealt a death blow to Democracy, and forever put an end to Democratic rule within the borders of our proud old county.

Notwithstanding the inexhaustible supply of "boozes" and the unlimited amount of corruption fund of the Democrats, Republicans and other honest and patriotic citizens turned out to do honor to the time-tried principles of Republicanism.

There was very little excitement reported during the day, but quite a number imbibed too freely of Democratic "boozes" with a few other disturbances of minor importance.

Mr. E. G. Barras was elected Circuit Court Clerk by a majority of 287 votes. Mr. Barras' ability and brightness of character has endeared him to his friends and they remembered him kindly at the polls.

Dr. A. D. Park made a most excellent race and is our next Representative by a majority of 326 votes.

Hon. M. L. Heavrin made a telling campaign and received a majority over his opponent in this county of 293 votes.

Hon. A. S. Bennett was elected State Senator of the Seventh Senatorial District without opposition. He carried the strength of his party in this county.

Mr. Ellsworth Rowe, a miner at Williams Mines in this county was the victim of a very important accident at that place last week.

Mr. Rowe and Mr. Frank Durbin were mining coal in adjoining rooms in the mine, and each put in a charge of powder to blow coal at the same time. They returned from the rooms, and when the charge exploded they mistook the explosion of Durbin's room for Mr. Rowe's, and Mr. Rowe went within his room to be met with a terrific explosion which blew out one eye entirely and seriously injured the other.

The Ministers and Deacons meeting of the Ohio County Baptist Association will meet the Fifth Sunday in this month, any church that wants the meeting to convene with them at that time, will please notify the committee at Matanzas, Ky., at once.

Pleasure is a humble that never lasts as long as it takes to make it.

The power of man can hang no weight on the pendulum of time. There are many things in which our senses are like a sun dial at night.

When the church becomes a market it is ruled by the greed of the mob. When men have a patent on a creed it is always one of their own invention.

The greater the vanity of a man's pretensions the more vain he will be of them.

DEMOCRATS VICTORIOUS

Beckham's Majority May Reach 20,000.

Republican Judge and Commonwealth's Attorney in Eighth District.

With nearly every portion of the State heard from in part, it seems almost certain that Beckham's majority will be about 20,000. The Democrats appear to have swept the State, though some startling reversals of form are shown.

The greatest victory achieved by the Republicans was in Kenton county, where Judge Tarvin and the entire Democratic ticket were defeated by Judge McD. Shaw and the Republican ticket by a safe majority.

In Bowling Green and in the Eighth Judicial district also the Republicans have some crumbs of comfort. They have elected the Circuit Judge, Judge Galloway defeating Judge Bradburn and they have also chosen the Commonwealth Attorney, Capt. N. T. Howard. In Bowling Green, however, the Democratic candidate for Mayor seems to have been elected by a small majority.

MAJORITIES BY DISTRICTS.

| | Dem. | Rep. |
|-------------------|-------|--------|
| First District | 8,498 | |
| Second District | 4,352 | |
| Third District | 2,884 | |
| Fourth District | 4,054 | |
| Fifth District | 5,248 | |
| Sixth District | 4,513 | |
| Seventh District | 8,683 | |
| Eighth District | 1,593 | |
| Ninth District | 1,778 | |
| Tenth District | 2,088 | |
| Eleventh District | | 11,469 |

JUDICIAL RACE.

In the race for Circuit Judge and Commonwealth's Attorney, the Democratic candidates were victorious. Birkhead received about 1,171 majority over Morrison and Ringo something less over his opponent, Heavrin.

ELECTION NEWS.

Nebraska is Republican by about 12,000 votes.

The Republican majority in Pennsylvania is estimated at 225,000 to 230,000.

Garvin, Democrat, was re-elected Governor of Rhode Island by a small plurality. The Republicans carried the other State offices and the Legislature.

George B. McClellan's plurality over Seth Low for Mayor of Greater New York is 63,617.

Bates, Republican, was re-elected Governor of Massachusetts by a plurality of 35,899 votes.

Edmund Russell, aged eighty-eight years, committed suicide at Jamestown, Tenn., by hanging himself in a closet.

The Republicans buried Tom Johnson in Ohio county by a plurality of over 125,000, which breaks the record. The Legislature will have a Republican plurality of over 100 on joint ballot.

"Old Hickory" Wagons.

We have received and unloaded into our wareroom another carload of the famous "Old Hickory" and "Tennessee" Wagons. We propose to sell these Wagons to the farmers and teamsters of the country at as low a price as any wagon can be sold, and we know we give you as good a wagon as you can buy in this county and a much better one than most wagons sold in this territory. But don't take our word for it. The wagon will speak for itself. Next time you start to town you will probably meet some good farmer driving in one. Ask him about this wagon. If he has used it and does not recommend it, don't you buy it. When we say to you that these wagons have no equal when it comes to light running and durability, we are only repeating the testimony of hundreds of satisfied owners of these splendid vehicles. We carry the following sizes in stock: 24, 28, 3 and 34, in both low and high wheels.

O. K. Stoves and Ranges.

Harvest time is here and preparation for winter cooking must be made. The old cooking stove must go to the scrap pile and a new stove must take its place. Satisfaction in operating a stove and the durability of its parts, constitute its real value. If you buy an O. K. Jewel, both satisfaction and durability are assured and guaranteed. The fire-box linings will last for five years, if properly cared for. You can't find another stove in the market that will do it. Look into this matter carefully and you will be sure to buy your Cooking Stove from us out of the O. K. line.

STORY OF GALLAHER

Brief Sketch of Immense Plant Across Ocean.

From Small Beginning Gallaher Now Has Largest Independent Tobacco Business in the World.

James D. Law, the Lancaster author, poet and cigar manufacturer, is putting out a new book under the title of "Here and There in Two Hemispheres." As the title implies, it is primarily a book of travel, but it is also much more, containing many delightful biographical sketches, historical studies, literary criticisms and personal interviews, with enough philosophizing poetizing and illustrative anecdotes to give interest to every page.

Among many bright things found between the covers is the following from a chapter on the personal and business sides of Thomas Gallaher, the Irish "Tobacco King" of Belfast, Ireland, who has several large factories in America, one of which is located in Owensboro.

"Of special interest to me was the tobacco factory of Gallaher, limited, at Belfast. I had made the acquaintance of Mr. Gallaher in the states, and while I knew his concern was a big one, I was not prepared to see such a gigantic factory. Thomas Gallaher, the founder and head of the firm, has been peering away at tobacco for over forty years.

"From a small beginning at London, he has now the biggest independent tobacco business in the world. His factory and warehouse buildings cover a large square, and are new and up-to-date in every department, much of the machinery in use being of his own special design and invention. His smokestacks contrast their own smoke. Think of a soon like that for Pittsburgh or Cincinnati. The value of the stock in the Gallaher plant is enormous, half a million dollars worth of tobacco often being in the hydraulic presses at one time. His specialties are Irish Roll and Flake, but all kinds of smoking and chewing tobacco are manufactured, also snuff and cigars.

HELP WELL CARED FOR.

"The Gallaher counting rooms look like fine banking offices. All the male and female help employed are well cared for, every comfort being provided, and mid-day meals served at bare cost. The pleasant relations between the firm and employees make the establishment resemble a large family rather than a cold, hard business proposition. I met some who have been in Mr. Gallaher's service since he started. One old man declared he did not see how it had all been accomplished, but he was sure he would not accept the factory, and undertake to keep it running, as a free gift. Mr. Gallaher buys his raw materials direct, and is as well known to the planters and growers of America as he is to the commercial men of his own city.

"He has large warehouses and branch establishments in London, Liverpool, Dublin and many other places. For all his successes and honors the 'Tobacco King' is a most democratic gentleman, and popular everywhere. He is interested in many other enterprises of local importance, and if he cared to enter public life could have almost any office he desired. At the St. Andrew's banquet—an important annual event in Belfast, and where I had the honor of responding to a toast—Mr. Gallaher made one of the good speeches of the evening. There were baronets, knights and squires present, members of parliament and deputy lieutenants, editors and other professional men in abundance, but none had a better ovation than 'Tom,' as he is affectionately styled among his own people.

"He resides in a lovely home—'Ballygoland,' near Greenacres, on the outskirts of the city—and to see him at his best. His career is a proof that there are chances for big commercial success in the old country as well as in the new, as he has made all his business himself, from the ground up."

PARTY PANTS

Jackson Writes of His First Party—Bad for a Bashful Boy.

There is a time in the life of every human being that one can look back upon with pride and yearning. That time is when Cupid first sends his arrow to the heart. I was shot fatally at the age of five years, and if I failed to get an invitation to a party I always felt slighted. This was frequently the case.

But thanks be to a neighbor girl, I got an invitation to attend her fifteenth birthday party and I knew there would be a glorious time playing King William. But I had no pants to wear and no money to buy with, but I did not forget that one of my uncles had offered me a pair of his and I hastened to get them and have them carved down to my size. The tailor told me the material was old but would probably last one night if I would not play any rough games. I told him just to cut them off and make them tight in the legs and I would be satisfied, and he made a very good job except that the goods would not hold a stitch. But I had a good double breasted home-made jeans coat made Prince Albert with velvet collar and cuffs which I was willing to trust in case of an accident.

The day was at hand and I got the pants and put them on, and although my uncle weighed 240 pounds and I only 77 pounds, I could see over the waist band without much trouble, and by cutting out the pockets and putting my arms through I did not need suspenders. It took me a long time to dress and, I got in late; no sooner had I reached the gate than I heard that sweet old soul-ravishing song, "King William," and I rushed in forgetting what the tailor had told me and joined the circle. I had on a collar large enough for a horse; it was hanging on one ear while the opposite side was hauled in the coat collar. A large girl with freckles and copper toes chose me in the ring and the next thing was a snuff for a kiss.

I spoke kindly to my pants and told them to try and bear up, but alas they heeded not and by some crooked move I got on that girl's shoulders and for a moment I thought she was a mule; my feet went over like a wind mill and my head struck the wardrobe and one door flew open. As for the pants, The Vell of the Temple was rent in twain, and I stood erect for a moment while my pants looked like two flags at half mast. Something had to be done in a hurry, so I just darted into the wardrobe where I remained until half-past one o'clock.

After everybody had gone the matron held one hand over her face and gave me some pins. I made a hasty exit and the dog finished undressing me before I could get to the gate. Every girl in that house quit speaking to me and I did not get another invitation for seven years.

Dear boys, be careful and try and profit by the misfortune of an old friend, who has been through the flint mill, and if you are compelled to wear your uncle's pants don't have them cut down. Let them be loose for loose pants are better than none.

The Best Remedy for Croup.

From the Advertiser, Men., Daily O'Connell.

This is the season when the women who know the best remedies for croup are in demand in every neighborhood. One of the most terrible things in the world is to be awakened in the middle of the night by a whoop from one of the children. The croup remedies are almost as sure to be lost, in case of croup, as a revolver sure to be lost in case of burglars. There used to be an old-fashioned remedy for croup, known as hives syrup and told, but some modern mother says that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better, and does not cost so much. It cures the patient to throw up the phlegm quicker, and gives relief in a shorter time. Gives this remedy as soon as the croupy cough appears and it will prevent the attack. It never fails and a pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all druggists.

A FAITHFUL DOG.

Tried to Save His Master's Treasure. But Death Was His Sole Reward.

Here is a pathetic story, told to my informant, the venerable Judge N. A. Patterson, by his father, as an incident of his life:

In the early days of North Carolina a man rode a long distance on horseback to collect a debt of several hundred dollars. He took with him, for company as a protection against robbers, a dog to which he had long felt much attached. He collected the money, all in silver dollars. These he tied up in a strong sack, lashed it to the saddle behind him and started for home.

When they had traveled about half of the homeward journey, the dog manifested a great deal of uneasiness, to which he gave expressions by vicious barking and frequent dives at the horse's forelegs. The man was sorely puzzled, and watched the dog too sometime to see if he could find an explanation of its strange conduct. His reluctant conclusion was that the dog had been bitten by a mad dog, and was the victim of hydrophobia. And so, to save his horse and put the poor dog out of misery he anointed it was suffering, he drew his pistol and shot it. Not wishing to see it die, he applied the apurs to his horse and rapidly rode for some distance. The thought came to him, "I would rather have lost the money than to have been forced to have killed that dog."

Thus reminded of the treasure, he put his hand around behind the saddle to see if the bag was safe, but it was not there. He turned and rapidly rode back. When he reached the point where the dog first commenced to bark and plunge at the horse's legs, he found the bag of coin, and the poor victim of his cruel mistake dying there. With his paws resting patiently on either side of his master's treasure. He had tried so hard to make his master understand, but had failed, and paid his life as the price of his fidelity.—Springfield Republican.

JUDGED BY APPEARANCE.

Christian Forbearance Should be Exercised in Forming Estimates of Other's Actions.

We have almost daily examples of the mistake in judging by appearance. An act seems to bear but a construction, and that against the character of a certain person. Or a report comes to us that seems to be so well authenticated and is told with so much attention to details that mistake seem to be out of the question. And yet, says the Northwestern Christian Advocate, when all the facts are in, a single circumstance that is overlooked, changes the whole complexion of the actor of the story. At one of the Waterloo banquets the Duke of Wellington, the hero of the battle, handed around for the examination of the guests a presentation snuff box set with diamonds. All at once it disappeared. Some one suggested that every one present turn his pockets inside out for fearful inspection. All the guests agreed to this but one old officer, who refused, and when the point was insisted upon he left the room. Of course suspicion fell upon him and he was given the cold shoulder. The next year the Duke at the banquet happened to put his hand in the pocket of his coat and there found the snuff box.

He went at once to the old officer and apologized. He found him living in a wretched garret. Asked why he had not consented to have his pockets examined when the box was missed, the officer replied: "I was carrying home some pieces of meat for my family, who were then almost dying of starvation, and I didn't want any one to know how poor we were." When the Duke heard the story he cried like a child and did all in his power to atone for the wrong that had been done, but, of course, he could not entirely, but he learned well the lesson not to judge by outward appearance.

A Sure Thing.

It is said that nothing is sure except death and taxes, but that is not altogether true. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is a sure cure for all lung and throat troubles. Thousands can testify to that. Mrs. C. B. VanM., of New York City, writes: "I had a severe case of Bronchitis and for a year tried everything I heard of, but got no relief. DAN PATCH CAN DO BETTER

His Owner, Wm. M. Savage, Says the Ghampion Pacer Can Go the Mile in 1:55.

William M. Savage, owner of Dan Patch, who broke the bookies on the Memphis track, and established a new world's record, is confident that the big pacer has not even yet shown his best speed and can lower even 1:56 1/4. Mr. Savage said of Dan Patch:

"He has not been urged to do his very best by Mr. McHenry in his trials against time this summer and I know that once he was called upon to do 1:57 he would make good. When it was definitely settled that Dan would start at Memphis, I told Mr. McHenry to the limit, and while 1:56 1/4 is good enough just at present, I am confident that the stallion will eclipse this mark if ever called upon to do so."

"How fast can he go?"

"I don't know. He is a wonderful horse for speed and seems to have a tremendous reserve that has even astonished me, and I have stilled his work more closely than any one else. I am often inclined to think that he can go in 1:55. I really think he can make that mark yet. I am not planning on any more record-breaking, but when the time comes, the stallion will show all that is required. McHenry will tell you the same."

The Kentucky Children's Home.

The Kentucky Children's Home in Louisville is an asylum, indeed, for the unfortunate orphan. A female inmate who recently secured a home in the country and afterwards became infatuated with a man who was inclined to lead her astray. The couple went to Jeffersonville, Ind., ostensibly to marry. They returned home and announced that they were man and wife. Mr. J. W. Gardner, the traveling representative of the Home, to make sure that the girl in question had not been imposed upon, made a search of the marriage register of Jeffersonville and ascertained that there had been no license issued. He at once returned to this county, hunted up the alleged marriage couple and a magistrate and became an eye-witness to the marriage himself. Such a home with an eye single to the welfare of its orphanage, is a blessing to the State and deserves liberal contributions, or assistance from the people.—Elizabethtown News.

Women as Well as Men

Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling how to get it. Thousands of testimonials received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.
